SASKIA SAUNDERS

Saskia Saunders brings the ancient craft of weaving into contemporary form to create elegant, large-scale tapestries and artworks which explore our collective need to live more sustainably, in harmony with nature.

The 'Well-Being' series explores the question:
'What does wellbeing feel like in our environment?'

Walking in the ancient woodlands around her garden studio in the Chiltern Hills was Saskia's constant source of inspiration for her enquiry.

Exclusively weaving with swathes of delicate, natural yarns, Saskia uses a subtle, minimal palette and ethereal woven structures to sensitively, and intentionally, explore the intersection of personal, collective and planetary wellbeing.
